ZHIHUI TANG, Ph.D. JOINS QUANTITATIVE SERVICES GROUP LLC
Quant to Advance Firm's Trading Research, Model and Factor Development

CHICAGO, IL – Quantitative Services Group LLC (QSG®) announced today that Zihui Tang, Ph.D. has joined the firm as a Senior Quantitative Analyst, focusing primarily on the firm's extensive trading analytics offerings. In his new role, Tang will ensure existing QSG models remain relevant while building new trading models in response to client demands and market trends. Tang will also contribute to the firm's long-term R&D initiatives, including QSG's anticipated development of a systematic bridge between stock selection models and trading analytics.

"Zihui brings to QSG a uniquely relevant skill set that combines quantitative analysis and techniques, financial modeling and trading," said Tim Sargent, QSG President. "As the marketplace continues to demand increasingly sophisticated trading solutions, I am confident that Zihui will make a powerful contribution to our product line as well as our clients' trading strategies."

Before joining QSG, Tang served Labranche Structured Products as a Quantitative Analyst, where he worked directly with senior traders to test, develop and implement trading strategies. He later managed Labranche floor trading and hedged and managed a book of structured notes with excellent return. Most recently, Tang developed and implemented an array of financial and economic models at International Monetary Fund in Washington DC.

"I truly admire the breadth of experience, intellectual power and curiosity of the QSG team, and I'm excited about the research possibilities that my new role will offer," said Tang.

Tang earned a Ph.D. in Applied Mathematics and Scientific Computation from the University of Maryland in College Park, MD and a B.S. in Applied Mathematics and M.S. in Mathematics from Wuhan University in Wuhan, China.
